John Carroll University

20700 North Park Blvd.

University Hts. (Cleveland), Ohio 44118 USA

Invitation

The American Hungarian Educators Association (AHEA) holds a yearly conference of academic and independent scholars, other educators, and graduate students in the subjects of Hungarian culture, history, folklore, literature, language, fine arts, and music. Its 36th conference will be held at John Carroll University, with the theme:

Whither Europe? Whither Hungary?
The Challenges of Pluralism in the Twenty-First Century.

Papers and presentations are open to the public to which all those interested are invited. The language of the conference is English; also a few Hungarian papers will be included. The complete program listing and additional information, including social events, are available on the AHEA web portal,

Please note that we will be presenting two documentary films of Hungarian subjects. The first, in Thursday, 14 April, About a Village, deals with the expulsion of German ethnic minorities, citizens of Hungary, after WW II.

On Friday afternoon we will be showing Outcasts: A Love Story, the story of two young lovers who were separated for ever by the events of WW II.

Detailed description of the films, show times and location, can be found on the AHEA web portal.
