

AHEA Conference
14-17 April 2011
John Carroll University, University Hts. (Cleveland), Ohio USA

ABOUT THE PIANO RECITAL and THE PIANIST, DR. JUDIT GÁBOS

ABOUT THE PIANO RECITAL:

Dr. Judit Gábos will perform as part of the AHEA Conference Friday evening, April 15, 2011, in the LSC Conference room of the Lombardo Student Center, beginning at 7:30 pm. The recital is open to all. A voluntary donation of $7 per person payable at the door is requested.
(JCU students admitted free of charge with ID.)
(Visiting Fulbrighters from abroad – see below.)
Reception to follow.

ABOUT THE ARTIST:

Dr. Judit Gábos was born in Cluj, Romania (Kolozsvár, Transylvania) and, studied at the George Dima Music Academy as a student of György Száva and Harald Enghiurliu. She graduated as a piano artist-teacher in 1980. The same year, as a result of her performance at the International Bach Competition, she was invited to tour Germany. Until 1991 Dr. Gábos lived in Romania, playing solo recitals and chamber music in the most prestigious concert halls of the country, performing as soloist with a majority of the nation's orchestras, playing at numerous festivals, premiering contemporary works, appearing on radio and television and, in 1985, being awarded 1st prize at the National George Dima Piano Competition. Since 1991 Dr. Gábos has lived in Hungary, continuing her performing career, and is currently head of the music department of Eszterházy College of Eger. In 2003 she received her DMA in piano performance from the Liszt Academy of Music in Budapest, where she continues to regularly perform. Since 2000 she has been an artist of the Hungarian Radio, and as such plays numerous live solo and chamber music recitals. Between 2003 –2008 Judit taught and performed at the Summer Chamber Music Academy at Farnières (Belgium). Since 2003 she has also been a guest faculty member of the Académie de Musique de Chambre in Belgium, and has also appeared in Turkey, Serbia, Spain, and Finland. In the United States she has been a visiting guest professor and played concerts at the University of Minnesota (Duluth) and Valdosta State University (Georgia), among others, where she has been a guest faculty member at numerous American universities (1993, 2001, 2002, 2006). This spring 2011, she is a Visiting Fulbright Professor at the University of South Carolina, Columbia, and will be traveling to the Cleveland area as our guest performer for the AHEA Conference here at JCU.

Dr. Gábos is sponsored by the Center for Global Education at JCU. The Center supports on-campus globalization initiatives. The Center has also committed to generous financial support for a number of AHEA Conference activities that will also involve JCU students and others in the JCU community. We at AHEA are very grateful for this support.

Additional arrangements were made by Dr. Katherine Gyékényesi Gatto, Dr. Mártha Pereszlenyi-Pintér, and others in the JCU Classical & Modern Languages & Cultures Department. Local support for Dr. Gábos's piano recital is also being provided by the JCU Modern European Studies Program as well as the Northeast Ohio Chapter of the Fulbright Association. Visiting Fulbright Students & Scholars from abroad will be admitted free (and may be accompanied by 1 guest) but must pre-register and put their names on the Visiting Fulbright Students and Scholars list. To be admitted free, Visiting Fulbrighters are asked to contact us in advance of the piano recital: send e-mail to mpereszlenyi@jcu.edu or call Dr. Mártha Pereszlenyi-Pintér at 216-397-4723 (and leave a message if necessary).