

AHEA Conferences

The AHEA was organized in 1974 at the Magyar Találkozó in Cleveland, Ohio. The following year we held our meeting again in Cleveland, as a one-day event. 1976 saw the start of independent conferences of two days (Friday and Saturday), expanded in 1983 to include a program on Thursday evening and occasionally a study tour or cultural program on Sunday. Many of the conferences were co-sponsored by departments or programs from the host university as well as various local or national organizations.

- 1st 1976 Rutgers University, New Brunswick, NJ
- 2nd 1977 Indiana University, Bloomington, IN
- 3rd 1978 Rutgers University, New Brunswick, NJ
- 4th 1979 Silver Spring, MD
- 5th 1980 St. Michael's College, U. of Toronto, Toronto, Ont. Canada

Beginning with the 6th Conference there has been a unifying theme given to each:

- 6th 1981 Kent State University, Kent, OH
Symposium on the Hungarian Revolution of 1956
- 7th 1982 Montclair State College, Upper Montclair, NJ
Hungarian Culture and History
- 8th 1983 St. Michael's College, University of Toronto, Toronto, Ont. Canada
- 9th 1984 Ohio State University, Columbus, OH
Hungary and Hungarians – Accomplishments and Prospects
- 10th 1985 Indiana University, Bloomington, IN
A Ten-Year Retrospective
- 11th 1986 St. Michael's College, University of Toronto, Toronto, Ont. Canada
- 12th 1987 Montclair State College, Upper Montclair, NJ
Hungary and Its Neighbors – Hungary and the West
- 13th 1988 University of Pittsburgh, Pittsburgh, PA
Contributions of Hungarians and those of Hungarian Descent to World Civilization
- 14th 1989 St. Michael's College, University of Toronto, Toronto, Ont. Canada
With the Hungarian Studies Association of Canada
- 15th 1990 Montclair State College, Upper Montclair, NJ
Hungary in an Age of Crisis
- 16th 1991 Indiana University, Bloomington, IN
The Life and Times of Ernő Dohnányi
- 17th 1992 University of Toledo, Toledo, OH
A Commemorative Conference on the Centennial of the Birmingham Neighborhood
- 18th 1993 University of Maryland, College Park, MD
Hungary in the 1990's: New Possibilities in a New Context
- 19th 1994 Rutgers University, New Brunswick, NJ
Fifteen Million Hungarians in Transition Today
- 20th 1995 U. du Québec à Montréal, Montreal, Que. Canada
At the Learned Societies of Canada Conference

- 21st 1996 Montclair State University, Upper Montclair, NJ
Hungarian Anniversaries: 896 and 1956
- 22nd 1997 U. of Maryland, College Park, MD
A Thousand Years of Hungarian Education: Toward the Second Millennium
- 23rd 1998 Columbia University, New York, NY
Reform, Revolution, Integration: Hungary Past and Present
- 24th 1999 John Carroll University, Cleveland, OH
Memory, Culture and Identity: The Hungarian Global Village at the End of the Millennium
- 25th 2000 Magyar Kultúra Alapítvány/Hungarian Culture Foundation, Budapest, Hungary
Hungarians in North America – Magyarok Észak Amerikában
- 26th 2001 Georgetown University, Washington, DC
Hungarian Culture – Central European Culture
- 27th 2002 University of Toronto, Toronto, Ont, Canada
At the Congress of Social Sciences and Humanities in Canada
- 28th 2003 Columbia University, New York, NY
- 29th 2004 Montclair State University, Upper Montclair, NJ
Hungarians at a Turning Point
- 30th 2005 Central European University, Budapest, Hungary
Looking Forward – Looking Back: The AHEA at Thirty
- 31st 2006 Indiana University, Bloomington, IN Cold War Hungary, the Revolution of 1956, and its Aftermath
- 32nd 2007 St. John's University College of Professional Studies, New York, NY
Hungarians in a Larger World
- 33rd 2008 Duquesne University, Pittsburgh, PA
Hungarian Identity in an Intercultural World
- 34th 2009 University of California, Berkeley, CA
Hungarians in the New World
- 35th 2010 University of Szeged, Szeged, Hungary
Bridges Between Hungarians – Magyar-Magyar Kapcsolatok
- 36th 2011 John Carroll University, Cleveland, OH
Whither Europe? Whither Hungary? The Challenges of Pluralism in the Twenty-first Century