

2022 Winner of the
PETER BASA AWARD
of the
American Hungarian Educators Association

Awardee's Name: Susan Glanz

Professional Title: Professor of Economics

Address: St. John's University, College of Professional Studies, New York, NY

Email: zsuzsa19745@gmail.com

Her professional curriculum is to be found here:

<https://www.stjohns.edu/academics/faculty/susan-glanz-phd>

Nominator: Judith Kesserű Némethy

Professional Title: Clinical Professor emerita, New York University

Address: 1 Washington Square Village Ap. 5T – New York, NY 10012

Email: jn2@nyu.edu

Date of submission: February 1, 2022

Indicate in the section below, why you believe the individual you are nominating meets qualifications for the Peter Basa Award:

Susan is a longstanding member of AHEA. She has contributed to our organization since the early 1980's, delivering a paper at practically every conference and participating actively in the organization and programming of every conference. As a member of the program committee since the second half of the 1980's, she has been chairing the section on Science/Economics to date.

In 2007, Susan was the head of the local organizing committee of our 32nd conference titled "Hungarians in a Larger World", held at St. John's University in Manhattan, NY.

Although not attending herself our last three meetings, she has nevertheless continued to assemble the elaborate program of each conference, demonstrating her outstanding expertise as an engineer as well as her dedication to AHEA.

As someone who had the pleasure to work closely with her for years in the organization of AHEA, I recommend her wholeheartedly for the 2022 Péter Basa Award.

Letter of support from Katalin Voros, February 2, 2022:

Susan Glanz was president of AHEA for two terms, from 2004-2008. This was before AHEA went online (2009). Susan dealt with several important issues, such as celebration of the 30th anniversary of the AHEA, in 2005 at the annual conference in Budapest (CEU). Also during Susan's term the Executive Committee approved and launched an e-journal to publish selected papers from the conferences. She arranged for the 2007 conference to be held at her place of employment, at St. John's University, NY.

As far as I can remember (I joined in 2004) Susan was a member of the Program Committee. She took on the responsibility of assembling the submitted papers into a coherent 3-day program. This work required several reiterations each year, often with up to the last minute requests for time changes; this cascaded into a rearrangement of a good part of the program. Since the conferences are a major activity of the AHEA, involving all members, assembling a program to satisfy all needs is a major accomplishment. Both as president and Program Committee member Susan performed the tasks of these positions admirably and established herself in the history of AHEA with great credits.

I support Susan Glanz's nomination for the Peter Basa Award without reservations.

Katalin Voros

KATALIN VOROS

R&D Engineering Manager Emerita

Electrical Engineering and Computer Sciences

University of California at Berkeley

voros@eecs.berkeley.edu

<http://microlab.berkeley.edu/~voros>

The Péter Basa Award
American Hungarian Educators Association
The Board of Directors hereby presents this Award to

Susan Glanz, PhD

In recognition of her numerous contributions to AHEA, serving as President for two terms, reviewing abstracts in Science and Economics for the Program Committee, drafting each of AHEA's Conference Programs for decades. We applaud her and thank her for her contributions to AHEA!

Klára K. Papp, PhD
President

Zsuzsanna Varga, PhD
Secretary

Presented at the 46th Annual AHEA Conference in April 2022